ABOUT US

Innovation in building
since 1952.

Beginning...

For more than half a century, Annandale Millwork Corporation has helped builders and contractors find better ways to build their structures. Working from his small lumberyard in Annandale, Virginia, founder William C. Frogale revolutionized the construction process in the Washington DC metro area. His mass-produced pre-hung door unit, the first in the region, cut the time it takes to produce a door unit by 90 percent and catapulted his company to the forefront of the industry. Then in 1989, at the urging of one of their top customers, the Frogales founded Allied Systems Corporation; a pioneer in pre-built wall panels.

Today

Today, William's sons Rob and Gene head the combined Annandale Millwork and Allied Systems Corporation. Committed to their father's vision, they carry on the Annandale tradition of innovative thinking, high quality standards and customer-first service. And now the third generation of family tradition continues with the appointment of Jackie Bates as Executive Vice President. The plant, based in Winchester, Virginia, services builders in Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Washington, DC. Additional materials Annandale Millwork and Allied Systems provide and install are doors, windows and interior and exterior trim. Our ability to manufacture structural components and millwork make us invaluable to your business.
